Summer Stuff 2020

FOR ALL STUDENTS IN THE BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Good old summertime... February 2020

Sure, it's winter now... but summer is on the way, and the time to make your summer plans is NOW. Summer Stuff is the place to find summer schools, camps, programs, activities, and jobs. There are a lot of great things to do in and around Boston. You could take dance lessons, learn to sail or play golf, act in a play, volunteer at a museum or homeless shelter, plan for college, get a job, intern in a science lab or on a farm, and go to free concerts and films. (You could even work on your math skills...)

Need ideas? Summer Stuff is full of good ideas. Read it through, circle the ones that interest you, and then visit their websites or call. They're waiting to hear from you. All of these programs can be found at PartnerBPS.org/summer. Use the search engine to find exactly what you want. Next, apply—now. Many programs are "first come/first served," and they fill up fast. In many cases, you can apply online or print an application from the website. Don't be put off by the cost of some programs. Many have scholarships or reduced fees based on what a family can pay, and they are looking for Boston students. Just ask. In fact, some programs are only for students who go to the Boston Public Schools. Good luck—and have a great summer!

What is PartnerBPS?

What to Look for in a Summer Camp or Program

After you have picked the camps or programs that work best with your schedule and would be most interesting to your child, get more information about them. Call each camp and ask a lot of questions.

Some questions to ask program and camp staff:

- Is the camp or program accredited or licensed? If so, by whom? If not, why not?
- What training does camp staff receive on safety, supervision, counseling, problem-solving, and other issues unique to working with children and young adults?
- Does the price include everything, or are there extra charges for transportation, food service, overnights, registration, clothing, etc.?
- If transportation is provided, what are the specifics?
- If before and after camp activities are offered, who is with the children and what will they be doing?
- Are there competitive activities (such as team sports)? Is your child comfortable with the level of competition?
- How can parents stay in touch with their children during camp? Are phone calls or e-mail allowed?
- How does the camp meet campers' special dietary or physical needs?
- Is there an open house before camp starts so parents can tour the camp and meet the director?
- Are there visiting days?

JUDGE BAKER CHILDREN'S CENTER CAMP BAKER

Camp Baker is a six-week day program that teaches children effective ways to manage ADHD and other behavior issues. Children who struggle with inattention, hyperactivity, impulsivity, and social skills deficits thrive at Camp Baker because our approach is tailored to help children with ADHD succeed. One of the primary goals of our program is to increase positive, appropriate behaviors so that children can have fun, successful summers. Throughout the day, campers receive a tremendous amount of positive reinforcement and praise for appropriate, on-task behaviors. This allows children, who have sometimes struggled in more traditional camp settings, to experience success. Another important aspect of the program is clear, consistent limit setting.

Plan ahead for college.

Summer is a great time to learn about careers and colleges, and Boston has great (and air conditioned) places to do just that: American Student Assistance (ASA) College Planning Centers at the Boston Public Library in Copley Square and in many neighborhoods. They have everything you need to make career and college decisions: information on thousands of colleges, universities, and technical/vocational programs; counseling on choosing a school and paying for it; help completing admission and financial aid applications; computerized college, career and scholarship search systems; and much more. Help is available in several languages. And it's all free. Check their website for tons of resources.

If you go to the Boston Public Schools, you are eligible for financial aid and many scholarships. Every BPS high school has a uAspire advisor who can help you find funding for college. Contact uAspire at 617-778-7195 or visit www.uaspire.org

How to get an Employment Permit

Are you planning to get a job this summer? Keep in mind that you must have an Employment Permit, sometimes called "working papers." The first step is to find an employer who is willing to hire you. Next....

IF YOU ARE 14 OR 15:

1. Get a white Promise of Employment Card from your guidance counselor/student support coordinator or your school's main office.
2. Take this card to your doctor's office or health center and have a doctor or nurse sign and date it. If you have not had a physical within the last year, make an appointment to have one. If you have had a physical in your school within the last year, your school nurse can sign and date the card.
3. Take this card to the prospective employer to fill out, sign, and date.
4. Take your Promise of Employment Card back to your guidance counselor/student support coordinator or main office and ask for an Employment Permit. It is also white, but larger than the Promise of Employment Card.
5. Fill out the Employment Permit and have your parent or guardian sign it on the back.
6. Once your parent or guardian has signed it, bring the completed Employment Permit to your employer.

IF YOU ARE 16 OR 17:

1. Pick up a yellow Educational Certificate from your guidance counselor. Have him or her fill it out and sign it.
2. Return the Educational Certificate to your employer.

DURING SCHOOL VACATIONS AND THE SUMMER:

You can also get a Promise of Employment Card or Educational Certificate from any BPS Welcome Center or the BPS Office of Guidance Services.
