PRODUCING INNOVATIVE, RADIANT MUSIC FULL OF EXPRESSION FOR 27 YEARS... WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN!

Since its founding in 1978, the San Francisco Girls Chorus has been a pioneer in the field of choral music for young women's voices. The organization has shown the world that a chorus of young women is capable of remarkable beauty, flexibility, tonal warmth, and expressive power. The Chorus is a regional center for music education and performance for girls and young women, ages 7-18. More than 300 singers from 160 schools in 48 Bay Area cities participate in this internationally recognized program, deemed "a model in the country for training girls' voices" by the California Arts Council. Chorissima and Virtuose, the Girls Chorus' acclaimed concert, touring and recording ensembles, under the leadership of Artistic Director Susan McLane, perform a full range of traditional works for treble voice, sung in over 12 different languages and 16 parts, with an emphasis on music composed specifically for young female voices. The young artists of Chorissima and Virtuose received their music training through the San Francisco Girls Chorus School, the four-level training program, supervised by Director Elizabeth Avakian.
